Brush Of Wings: A Novel (Angels Walking)

Synopsis

From #1 New York Times bestselling author Karen Kingsbury comes the third novel in an unforgettable series about divine intervention and the trials and triumphs of life for a group of friends. Despite needing a heart transplant and against the advice of her doctor, Mary Catherine moves to Uganda to work at a new orphanage. Whatever time she has left, Mary Catherine wants to spend it helping children—especially since there will be no children of her own. The only problem is Major League Baseball player Marcus Dillinger, the man she never meant to fall in love with. Neither Marcus nor Mary Catherine's other friends—Tyler Ames and Sami Dawson—know just how serious her heart condition is. Still, Marcus is sure in the depths of his soul that something isn't right. Ultimately his correspondence with Mary Catherine leads him on a desperate life-or-death mission to rescue her and get her to a US hospital before time runs out. Meanwhile, Sami and Tyler struggle with issues of their own. In a season when Tyler plans to ask Sami to marry him, the very core of their relationship is in jeopardy. The team of angels walking is busier than ever in this epic battle between life and death. Brush of Wings is a poignant tale of love, sacrifice, and the power of faith.

The third and final much anticipated book in the Angels Walking series BRUSH OF WINGS gives you a story you will soon not forget. Our favorite angels, Ember, Beck, Jag and Aspyn will have to join together to make their earthly mission a success. It will be a matter of life and death. A young woman Mary Catherine, whose life needs to continue and new life in a baby. A baby who will return a generation back to God. BRUSH OF WINGS takes you on Mary Catherine's life journey. A journey that is destined to end early due to significant health issues. Mary Catherine wants what everyone wants....a husband, a family and to have a purpose in her life, but her dreams are being shattered due to a failing heart. One man, Marcus Dillinger, is determined to make Mary Catherine his wife. The feelings are there for both of them, but Mary Catherine decides to run to Africa, fulfilling one last dream of hers, setting up and working in an orphanage. Marcus unaware of her sickness doesn't understand. A young girl, Lexy, who had sought help from Mary Catherine in the past, finds herself once again involved with the street gangs. Being treated poorly by a guy who she thinks loves her....She then finds herself pregnant. In steps the angels walking, trying everything to bring Marcus and Mary Catherine together. Will it be in time? The angels' many jobs are to protect the unborn child, whose life hangs in the balance if their mission fails. All mankind depends on their successful mission. Will the baby be born? Throughout the pages of BRUSH OF WINGS, you will find yourself praying for Mary Catherine, for Marcus, Lexy, and the angels walking. You find yourself not second-guessing the existence of angels, because you will believe angels do walk among us.

Karen Kingsbury completes her "Angels Walking" trilogy with Brush of Wings, a supernatural fantasy about life, death and angelic intervention. The prologue begins in heaven where lead angel Orlon has called an "Angel Town Meeting" after Archangel Michael informs him, "the Father is ready for the final stage of this great mission." Ember, Beck, Jag and Aspyn, "Walking Angels" team members were the first to arrive and sat near the front as other angels entered in groups of "twos and threes." The team didn't expect the final assignment to be theirs since they had worked with Tyler Ames, Sami Dawson, Mary Catherine Clark and Marcus Dillinger before. Yet they were told to continue the mission and warned if they were recognized the consequences would be serious and the entire mission would be in jeopardy since that could stop or interrupt events "that must play out" for their mission to succeed. Thus begins Kingsbury's touching tale of love and sacrifice wrapped in the power of faith, serious health issues, danger and a team of angels' divine intervention. It's also a story of friendships, choices and decisions that impact the future of a baby yet to be born who will return generations back to God if Mary Catherine will only listen to her doctor's advice. However, Mary Catherine believes Matthew 6:27, "And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his lifespan?" (ESV) (Page 276) and she continues to pursue her dream. However, when the doctor's advice conflicts with her dream of working with orphans in Africa she's even more determined to "live out the one dream she could still make a reality" while she still can.
